The other device types are currently being developed. KYOCERA Document Solutions intends to support all future printer models, which are relevant in the SAP environment. The supported printer models and device types will be published in this note.

The choice of the device type is not important if the printer is a black and white or color device, because the color commands are send from SAP itself. Please mark "Color Print" at the "Output Attributes" of the Output device to switch the color printing on.

Details:

The Japanese device types are only supported by the Japanese version of the printer or MFPS.

The Unicode device types support Asian characters like Kanji or Han only, if the ANDALE fonts are used and the KYOMulticode module is installed in the printer or MFP. European characters (including Cyrillic and Greek) can be used with the SAP standard fonts Courier, Times and Helve.

Some printers or MFPS are using different hardware option as defined at the device type description, but this hardware options have identical or similar features.
